CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

Stamford officials are expected to abstain from participating in any decree or decision and to reveal any personal, family or business interests that they have, which, by creating a divided loyalty, could influence their judgment and hence the wisdom of decisions. A conflict of interest exists wherever an individual or their family could benefit, disproportionately from others, directly or indirectly, from access to information or from a decision over which they might have influence, or, where someone might reasonably perceive there to be such a benefit and influence.

Disclosure Statement

I have read, understood and agree to abide by Stamford's Ethics Ordinance and the above Conflict of Interest Policy. To the best of my knowledge, there are no conflicts of interest that might influence, or be perceived to influence, my decision-making or actions affecting serving as an official on the Health Commission, except as disclosed here. If such a conflict should arise in the future, I agree to promptly disclose it to the Chair of the Appointments Committee of the Board of Representatives and to abstain from participating in any action related thereto that may be before the Health Commission.

Barry F. Hersh is Clinical Associate Professor at the New York University School of Professional Studies, Schack Institute of Real Estate and Chair of the Masters in Real Estate Development Program. He teaches Land Use Regulation, Green Buildings and the Development Capstone. He works with faculty and curriculum, advises student teams successfully competing in major competitions. He is an alternate member of the NYU Faculty Senate and has been honored for his service. Mr. Hersh's research is on sustainable urban redevelopment, he is a core faculty member of the NYU Center for the Sustainable Built Environment, and participates in international joint university and executive programs, most recently with JLL and the University of Amsterdam.

Mr. Hersh is the author of Urban Redevelopment: A North American Reader, Routledge, 2017 which included a case study of Harbor Point and the subject of a talk with Ralph Blessing at the Ferguson Library. His most recent case study is of the Rheingold Brewery Redevelopment, for the Lincoln Land Institute and the American Society of Collegiate Planning Schools. He was a Distinguished Fellow of the NAIOP Foundation, supporters of his national study of Waterfront Redevelopment presented at their Urban Forum. Mr. Hersh has conducted international studies on "Brownfields on Three Continents", and Brownfields in the United States and China, published by Asian Real Estate Society and presented in Shanghai. In 2016 he participated in the WatersEdge Symposium in New Zealand.

As Vice President of Dames & Moore/Brookhill he led more than fifty successful brownfield redevelopments. Earlier he was real estate director with Reynolds Metals Company and founding Director of Westhab, the Westchester affordable housing non-profit where he completed a successful historic renovation project in Yonkers. His New York City Brownfields study was recognized for Outstanding Scholarly Achievement and utilized in PlaNYC 2020. As a Faculty Associate of the Lincoln Institute of Land Policy, Mr. Hersh wrote "Real Estate Tax Issues and Brownfields Redevelopment". Mr. Hersh has consulted on redevelopments, such as brownfield efforts in Jamaica, Eastchester and Newtown Creek in New York City, projects in Ohio and California as well as post-Sandy recovery efforts in three states. He taught, as a partner in Vita Nuova LLC, the "What Regulators Need to Know about Redevelopment" course, well-received by 2200 staff members of the United States EPA and several state environmental agencies.

Mr. Hersh has been a member of the Stamford Historic Advisory Commission since inception in 2014. He was among the first named as a Certified Environmental Planner in 2012 and is a member of the American Institute of Certified Planners and Urban Land Institute. While Academic Director of the Newman Real Estate Institute at Baruch College, CUNY, he Co-Chaired the Building Performance Lab, studying energy performance in new and historic buildings. He is an Advisory Board Member of the Center for Creative Land Recycling, the Waterfront Center, and a supporter of Mill River Park and of the Bartlett Arboretum. Mr. Hersh earlier served as Planner for the City of Stamford, Principal Planner for the Toledo (Ohio) Plan Commission and Director of Development for Poughkeepsie, New York. He holds a Masters Degree in Urban Planning from New York University's Wagner School and a Bachelor's in Urban Studies from CUNY.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

Stamford officials are expected to abstain from participating in any decree or decision and to reveal any personal, family or business interests that they have, which, by creating a divided loyalty, could influence their judgment and hence the wisdom of decisions. A conflict of interest exists wherever an individual or their family could benefit, disproportionately from others, directly or indirectly, from access to information or from a decision over which they might have influence, or, where someone might reasonably perceive there to be such a benefit and influence.

Disclosure Statement

I have read, understood and agree to abide by Stamford's Ethics Ordinance and the above Conflict of Interest Policy. To the best of my knowledge, there are no conflicts of interest that might influence, or be perceived to influence, my decision-making or actions affecting serving as an official on the Historic Preservation Advisory Commission, except as disclosed here. If such a conflict should arise in the future, I agree to promptly disclose it to the Chair of the Appointments Committee of the Board of Representatives and to abstain from participating in any action related thereto that may be before the Historic Preservation Advisory Commission.

CREDENTIALS SUMMARY

I am a graduate of the United States Military Academy, West Point, NY and served in the U.S. Army Signal Corps for my twenty-one year military career, retiring with the rank of Lieutenant Colonel. I completed two follow-on careers where I applied my Army leadership and management skills. Since retirement, I have devoted a great deal of my efforts to Veterans Affairs and community involvement.

Army Leadership and Management

- During the Viet Nam conflict, I was stationed at the Long Binh Army Depot where I was responsible for the supply of long range communications equipment for the Army presence in-country as well as managing resources for the many hill-top communications relay sites throughout South Vietnam. I spent considerable time visiting the sites via helicopter to check on equipment status and, although not my designated role, assessing matters of the soldiers' health and welfare, which I would then coordinate with their chain of command.
- During the Cold War, as Chief, Contingency Plans Branch, 5th Signal Command in Worms, Germany, I was responsible for communications support planning for European Theater deployment of Army communications, if required during crises or unexpected conflict. This role required coordinated planning with Allied counterparts and the major U.S. Army commands and subcommands headquartered in Europe.
- During the 1980s, in the years leading to the U.S. role in Desert Storm, I was the project manager for several major communications systems. Perhaps the most significant was my role as product manager for the Army ground-based portion of a multi-service/international telecommunications and position/location system that was deployed to U.S. forces in the Middle East.
- During Desert Storm, my role on the Army staff in the Pentagon included coordinating with the Congressional Military and Budget Committees as well as military field testing sites to expedite deployment of the then-new GPS system to the Middle East, in order to meet the critical need for controlling U.S. military operations.

Civilian-sector Role in US and Allied Military Planning

- During the 1990s, I served as a project manager and research fellow at a major not-for-profit research and development center. My role included management of the center's international projects supporting the U.S. Department of Defense, NATO, and Ministries of Defense of the major NATO nations. The work covered a broad range of telecommunications policy, management, and technical concerns. In this capacity, I facilitated meetings directly with national delegates to reach agreement on proposals that I had developed and proposed for their consensus and implementation.
- From 2000 to 2005, I worked for a major software company, managing the implementation and support of the company's security products within the U.S. Federal Sector. Clients included most of the major Governmental Departments and Agencies.

Current Activities and Community Involvement

- I work with Congressman Jim Himes on his Veterans Affairs Advisory Board and Service Academy Selection Panel.
- I am a member of the Jewish War Veterans Fred Robbins Post #142, where I was recently elected Vice Commander. I previously served as Chief of Staff. Duties included representing the Post Commander in various community activities and programs such as The Stamford Citizen of the Year (COTY) planning and scholarship awards cosponsored with the City of Stamford.
- I am a member of the Senior Men's Association of Stamford (SMAS) where I am actively involved in various organizational and community activities.
- I am an active member of several synagogues in Stamford, CT.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

Stamford officials are expected to abstain from participating in any decree or decision and to reveal any personal, family or business interests that they have, which, by creating a divided loyalty, could influence their judgment and hence the wisdom of decisions. A conflict of interest exists wherever an individual or their family could benefit, disproportionately from others, directly or indirectly, from access to information or from a decision over which they might have influence, or, where someone might reasonably perceive there to be such a benefit and influence.

Disclosure Statement

I have read, understood and agree to abide by Stamford's Ethics Ordinance and the above Conflict of Interest Policy. To the best of my knowledge, there are no conflicts of interest that might influence, or be perceived to influence, my decision-making or actions affecting serving as an official on the Patriotic and Special Events Commission, except as disclosed here. If such a conflict should arise in the future, I agree to promptly disclose it to the Chair of the Appointments Committee of the Board of Representatives and to abstain from participating in any action related thereto that may be before the Patriotic and Special Events Commission.

Please consider my application for consideration as the Ponus Yacht Club representative to the Stamford CT Harbor Management Commission.

As a lifelong resident of Stamford, I have always considered it a privilege to have access to long island sound and surrounding waters. Stamford Harbor is an asset to the city and the community, and I would consider it an honor to be able to sit on a commission that helps in continuing to create the best experience and relationship for the city of Stamford and its residents when it comes to our shared waterways.

I am an active resident in Stamford and my family enjoys all that the city has to offer. I have been a licensed boater since the time of inception of licensing in CT and Prior to that, was Power Squadron certified as a teenager. My family spends their summers on the shore, and we have owned boats over the years from large sailboats to dinghies. Most of my powerboats were kept at Stamford's Czescik Marina on Harbor Drive and Sailboats were moored at the Stamford Yacht Club. Currently we own a Boston whaler to get out and enjoy the waters.

My wife are Stamford natives and continue to raise our three children here while continuing to be active in our community. We enjoy all things that Stamford has to offer from its museums and parks, to team leagues and events including - Live at Five, Baseball, Lacrosse, Hockey and Softball leagues. I personally have served as a coach to over twenty youth league teams, and advisor to several committees. In my professional life, I currently work as the Director of US Operations for BBIT USA in Stamford and have in the past served as VP on the board of governors to the Greenwich Blues Hockey Club.

It would be my honor and privilege to help our city and the Harbor Commission work together as a team towards the future of Stamford.

Best Regards
