Co-Chair Sherwood read Item 1 into the record and stated this meeting is not a public hearing and that a public hearing on this item would be held at the next regular meeting of the Land Use-Urban Redevelopment Committee meeting on Wednesday, August 20th. The time for the August meeting is yet to be determined but would be announced in the meeting notice and via standard public hearing legal notices. She then opened the floor to get public input on the 2035 Comprehensive Plan via taking questions or comments from anyone present who wanted to speak.

The invited presenters, the Land Use Bureau and the consultant company, Sisaki, who created the draft 2035 Comprehensive Plan (alternatively referred to as the Master Plan) were not present. Co-Chair Sherwood stated that a full report based on all the testimony, comments and questions from the public present (both in-person and remotely) at tonight's meeting would be made available to the administration. Co-Chair Sherwood shared that in a conversation with Director Quinones, on the Mayor's cabinet, he stated the cabinet members would be listening to the Land Use-Urban Redevelopment Committee meeting, are interested in the public's comments and are serious about incorporating them into the Master Plan.

The speakers were each given three (3) minutes to speak, and some, when called on for their turn, instead declined to speak or ceded their time to another speaker who had already used their time.

Members of the Board of Representatives, both Land Use committee members and ex-officio members, also spoke and left written testimony alongside members of the public attending the meeting remotely. Over forty (40) members of the public spoke in all.
